Computer Solutions & Software International becomes a Member of the National Insurance Producer Registry (NIPR)

The network links insurance regulators with the entities they regulate to facilitate the exchange of producer information

Coconut Creek, Florida, 3/15/2008 — Computer Solutions and Software International, Inc. (CSSI), today announced its membership in the NIPR.

The National Insurance Producer Registry (NIPR) is a non-profit affiliate of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) that manages electronic databases and communication networks for state insurance regulators and those they regulate. Its goal is to modernize, streamline, and make more uniform the producer licensing process.

The NIPR continues its commitment to consumers by providing the insurance industry with the technology to access information through a centralized database containing licensing information for more than 3.8 million producers.

The NAIC created NIPR in 1996 to act as a central nationwide source of producer licensing data and to provide a system for the electronic exchange of producer information.

“We are very pleased to become a member of the NIPR,” said Stephen Bruno, President and CEO of CSSI. “The NIPR is a tremendous resource to the insurance community.”
